USA Volleyball has a new nationwide promotion, which encourages potential new players to try volleyball for free. In conjunction with NBC and the United States Olympic Committee, Gold Map is a program that was promoted during the Olympic Games which invites kids to try Olympic sports. Open Court is a promotion from USA Volleyball and the Gold Map program.

Open Court will debut at locations across the country, including here in the Ohio Valley Region (OVR), which is the USA Volleyball association that manages volleyball in this area (western PA, Ohio, and West Virginia). The two OVR club teams hosting this Open Court event are Zero Tolerance and BVP. Zero Tolerance is a local club team for girls, and BVP is the local club for boys.

The format will be a total of two and a half hours. The first part will be an introduction to the skills of serving, passing, setting, and hitting. The final session will be free time to play games amongst the attendees.

Players: please wear comfortable clothes and gym shoes. There isn't any fee to attend. You do not need to attend the entire time. Just attend the time that you have available. And, bring a friend if you would like.

Parents: you will be asked to sign a registration form at check-in so that your child will be covered with USA Volleyball secondary medical insurance during the event. Parents are welcome to stay and watch, but it is not necessary.

Pre-registration is not needed. No previous volleyball experience is required. We expect everyone to be brand new with the sport. Just come and have fun with the awesome sport of volleyball. It's totally free!
